

Metal Rescue Success Story

Rusted Speedometer

Metal Rescue™ Success Story- Derusted Speedometer

From: Jeff Stevens [mailto:wolfmanwax@fluoromoly.com]
> Sent: Sunday, November 16, 2008 6:21 PM
> To: Wesley Measel
> Cc: info
> Subject: Metal Rescue - speedometer rescued
>
> Hi Wesley,
>
> I live near the Howell area and got 5 gallons of Metal Rescue about 2 > weeks ago. I talked to Dan about getting some Metal Rescue gel and I > hope that you come up with some. Anyway, I'm using Metal Rescue to > restore a couple motorcycles. One of them is a 1972 Yamaha R5C and when > i bought it the person that i got it from said the speedometer would > need to be replaced. Well, i think he was wrong because it cleaned up > pretty good and i was able to get it working with the help of Metal > Rescue. Eventually i'm planning to post a blog on the internet about my derusting experience. I have used Rusteco, Boesheid rust free, naval jelly and metal rescue ... your product is certainly the best for the money.
>
> Thanks,
> Jeff
>
> P.s. see attached before and after pics of inside of speedometer.

Metal Rescue™ Liquid Rust Remover Bath

Safe on you and the environment
yet just as affective as acid!

www.metalrescue.com